

Old Orchard Beach, ME

▶ Everything about the pier at Old Orchard Beach looks like a movie set: weather-worn pylons, salt-seasoned shingles, old-school seafood shacks. The short pier, built in 1980 to resemble the original 19th-century one, has just six bars and restaurants; locals swear by the classic Maine lobster roll at Hurricane Raw Bar (oobpier.com/rawbar.html). There's also plenty to see nearby, including a Ferris wheel and a fireworks show every Thursday night in the summer. oobpier.com
